Introduction to the Nursing Home Employee Satisfaction Survey

The employee satisfaction survey is a free, do-it-yourself, anonymous survey. It can help your nursing home identify the drivers of staff satisfaction and take action to make improvements.

To implement the survey, visit the CMPRP webpage to download these three tools:

- Implementation Guide: This step-by-step instruction guide provides guidance on how to successfully plan for and implement the survey. It also includes techniques and suggestions for encouraging staff participation, interpreting results and acting on what you learn from the survey.
- Employee Satisfaction Survey: A printable survey for employees to complete.
- Data Collection and Analytics Tool: A Microsoft Excel workbook to be used for compiling responses and analyzing survey results.

Why should I implement the employee satisfaction survey?

This survey will provide you with important insights about your work environment from the people who know it best—your employees. Implementing the survey will help you learn about staff priorities and identify opportunities for increasing employee satisfaction. Increased satisfaction contributes to higher performance and improves quality of care, quality of life and resident satisfaction.

Improving employee satisfaction positively impacts...

The Five-Star Quality Rating

- 31% of employees at five-star rated nursing homes rated their nursing home as an “excellent” place to work, compared to just 16% of employees at one-star nursing homes.

How do I start assessing employee satisfaction?

Overview of the process for conducting the employee satisfaction survey

There are four steps to conduct the employee satisfaction survey: initiate, implement, interpret, and improve. We call these “the four I’s.” It is recommended that your nursing home follow “the four I’s” and complete the survey at least every six months to one year. This will enable a continuous feedback loop, helping you monitor progress and identify any new problem areas in employee satisfaction. A video is also available on the CMPRP webpage that reviews each of the four steps.

The following pages will walk you through each of “the four I’s” and will illustrate the steps you should take to conduct the employee satisfaction survey.
Initiate: How do I prepare to use the employee satisfaction survey?

Before sharing the survey with your staff, review and carry out the steps below to prepare for survey implementation.

Who implements the employee satisfaction survey?

The nursing home administrator and others on the leadership team should be actively involved in planning for and assisting with the survey implementation process. However, successful implementation of the employee satisfaction survey will require delegating and putting together a survey team. The survey team carries out survey-related tasks, promotes participation and encourages honest feedback from staff.

The nursing home administrator and others on the leadership team provide support and resources to the survey team, including:

- Allocating financial resources for survey-related expenses and time for survey implementation
- Assisting in overcoming any barriers to survey implementation
- Committing to actively follow up and take action based on the survey results

Please review the table below, which provides a description of the survey team roles that are necessary to properly administer the survey.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Role</th>
<th>Survey Implementation Responsibilities</th>
<th>Suggested Abilities</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Survey Coordinator</td>
<td>- Leads the survey team and oversees the planning and implementation of the survey&lt;br&gt;- Establishes and communicates guidelines for completing and submitting the surveys&lt;br&gt;- Takes necessary steps to ensure the anonymity of the surveys&lt;br&gt;- Responds to staff questions</td>
<td>- Informal leader who is a well-respected staff advocate&lt;br&gt;- Has positive communication style and abilities&lt;br&gt;- Has access to computers and printers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Survey Champion(s)</td>
<td>- Identifies and leads promotional activities to encourage staff participation&lt;br&gt;- Communicates with staff, introducing the survey during staff meetings, as well as in small group and one-on-one discussions; sends letters/emails and posts flyers about the survey&lt;br&gt;- Responds to staff questions</td>
<td>- Positively-focused employee influencer and informal leader&lt;br&gt;- Able to effectively promote the survey’s importance to employees through existing relationships</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Data Entry Lead</td>
<td>- Gathers completed surveys from designated location(s)&lt;br&gt;- Enters survey responses into the Data Collection and Analytics Tool&lt;br&gt;- Maintains strict confidentiality of all survey information&lt;br&gt;- Provides the nursing home leadership team with the survey results</td>
<td>- Basic Microsoft Excel proficiency&lt;br&gt;- Well-organized and can work efficiently with limited supervision&lt;br&gt;- Has a workspace in a private area and is committed to maintaining confidentiality</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
What else should I do to get ready for using the employee satisfaction survey?

Once the survey team is formed, follow the steps below to further prepare for survey implementation.

(1) Determine who will take the employee satisfaction survey. High levels of participation are beneficial to achieving the most representative survey results possible. To this end, the survey is designed to gauge employee satisfaction across all positions. As such, full-time, part-time and PRN (as needed) employees in all departments and at all levels should be invited to complete the survey.

- Contracted employees (e.g., therapy, dining services, and housekeeping/laundry staff) can also be invited to complete the survey and should respond according to their experience working in your nursing home. While we do not recommend that agency staff and other temporary workers participate in the survey, it is up to the discretion of your nursing home. The nursing home administrator is also not expected to complete the survey, but should review and become familiar with the survey.

(2) Decide when to administer the survey. It is recommended that the survey be available to your employees for two weeks. Be sure to check the calendar and plan to circulate the survey during a time when most staff will be available. Participation rates can vary based on the timing of implementing the survey.

(3) Establish a process for printing and distributing the survey. The survey coordinator oversees printing and distributing the survey and will determine the best methods for completing these tasks.

(4) Ensure anonymity. Set up a safe and secure, accessible location for staff to anonymously submit their completed surveys. Consider using a locked drop-box to further ensure and promote the anonymous nature of the survey.

How do I encourage employees to participate in the employee satisfaction survey?

It is important to generate excitement for using the employee satisfaction survey. Announce the employee satisfaction survey widely so that all staff know that it is coming and feel encouraged to participate. Talk with staff directly (individually or in small groups) to explain the survey. Let staff know how important it is to share their views and that you value their opinions.

Tips for Success

Promote employee participation in the survey by:

- Making announcements at all-staff meetings and interdisciplinary team meetings
- Posting eye-catching flyers or posters in breakrooms, by the time clock and in other high-traffic areas
- Communicating through letters or emails to staff

Ready-to-use talking points, a poster, and a letter/email template can be found in the Appendix of this guide.
What should my employees know before completing the survey?

Be sure your employees understand the following messages about the survey:

1. Anonymous
   - Reiterate to staff that the survey is anonymous. Employees should NOT write their names on the survey so that results can remain anonymous.

2. Honest Feedback
   - Encourage staff to provide honest feedback. The survey results are only useful when employees feel empowered to be truthful in their responses.

3. Quick
   - Assure employees that the survey should take approximately 10 minutes to complete. However, make sure to give staff additional time if needed.

Implement: How do I share the employee satisfaction survey with employees?

Once preparations are complete and employees have been informed, it is time to conduct the employee satisfaction survey. To do this, please follow the steps below.

(1) Distribute Survey. Consider passing out the survey at an all-staff meeting. Provide extra copies of the survey in common areas or near the secure drop-box in case people lose their first copy.

(2) Complete Survey. Remind employees that the survey should take approximately 10 minutes to complete, but that additional time will be given if needed. Make sure that staff are clearly instructed to submit completed surveys to the secure, designated location.

Tips for Success

- Make a checklist to ensure that all departments and shifts received information about and copies of the survey
- Consider distributing the survey with a blank envelope for employees to seal and submit their responses with an extra level of privacy
- Set a participation goal (for example, 50-70 percent response rate is considered a good response rate\(^5\))
- Create a thermometer board to show progress towards the response goal and celebrate participation milestones
- Lead by example (for example, cover the floor for 10 minutes so that staff can complete the survey)

Interpret: How do I compile and begin to understand the survey results?

Implementing the employee satisfaction survey is the first step in improving the employee experience at your nursing home. Once completed surveys have been collected from the secure, designated location, it is time to use the Data Collection and Analytics Tool to enter data from the surveys and then analyze and interpret the results.
Description of the Data Collection and Analytics Tool

The Data Collection and Analytics Tool is a Microsoft Excel workbook, which the data entry lead will use to input the survey responses. The tool will help you successfully compile and interpret your nursing home’s survey results. The tool can be found with the other employee satisfaction survey materials on the CMPRP webpage.

The tool allows you to compile responses and view results across multiple workbook tabs, as follows:

- Instructions: Provides instructions for using the Data Collection and Analytics Tool
- Data Entry: Allows for data to be entered from each survey into the tool
- Results Overview: Displays overall employee satisfaction score, as well as scores by each topic area
- Highest and Lowest Scoring Questions: Displays the questions with the highest and lowest scores overall and for each topic area
- Results by Question: Displays the average employee satisfaction score for each survey question
- Comments: Compiles the comments provided by survey takers into an organized list

Additional instructions for using the Data Collection and Analytics Tool are embedded within the tool itself and in an instructional video that is available on the CMPRP webpage.

Tips for Success

- Be sure to download and save a new version of the Data Collection and Analytics Tool every time your nursing home administers the survey.
- Consider methods for disposing completed employee satisfaction surveys after the data is entered. Given the importance of maintaining anonymity, consider discarding the surveys as you would other sensitive information.

Understanding my nursing home’s results

Once the data entry lead finalizes data entry and survey results are displayed in the Data Collection and Analytics Tool, the survey team should give the digital Microsoft Excel file to the nursing home’s leadership team. The reports within the Data Collection and Analytics Tool can be easily printed to facilitate discussion and review.

The Data Collection and Analytics Tool averages staff responses and displays results numerically and according to a high/medium/low range. Numerically, you will see your results on a scale from 1 to 5, where 1 represents an average response of Strongly Disagree and 5 represents an average response of Strongly Agree. Your nursing home’s average responses are also clustered into ranges—high, medium and low—to further highlight your strengths and identify areas for improvement. The table to the right displays the scores and corresponding ranges.

When reviewing your results, you may be most concerned with topic areas or questions that received lower scores. There can be many reasons for low scores; potential reasons for low satisfaction results (across the five topic areas) are discussed below. This is NOT an exhaustive list, but you can use these as a starting point for understanding the root causes and drivers of satisfaction or dissatisfaction in your nursing home. Make sure to review areas in which you scored within medium and high ranges as well.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Topic Area</th>
<th>What Low Responses Might Mean</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Job Satisfaction              | • Staff want to be recognized more regularly for their work
• Staff feel that the work environment is unsafe or negative
• Pay and/or benefits may not be competitive for the skillset and/or local area |
| Team Building and Communication | • Staff have limited opportunities to participate in team-building activities
• Insufficient emphasis on the value and impact of employees on the nursing home and its residents
• Poor communication practices are common between staff within and across inter-disciplinary teams |
| Staffing and Scheduling       | • Staff are at risk of burning out
• Scheduling policies and procedures are not transparent and may need to be updated
• Staff would like more input into setting schedules |
| Training                      | • Training sessions offered do not reflect the nursing home’s challenges
• In-service opportunities are not held at ideal times or with ideal frequency
• Staff do not feel the nursing home is invested in their growth |
| Management and Leadership     | • Leadership does not know their staff well
• Staff do not feel empowered |

Think through your results in the context of your nursing home’s environment as you prepare to take tailored action.
Improve: How do I start identifying and acting on areas for improvement?

After you have reviewed and analyzed your survey results, you will be ready to prioritize and address your improvement areas. It is crucial that you take the input received through the survey and translate it into action to improve employee satisfaction. Staff need to see that changes are implemented as a result of using the survey. If you do not make changes in a timely manner, staff are likely to grow more dissatisfied and may be unwilling to participate in future surveys.

To begin taking action, consider following the steps below:

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

(1) What percentage of my staff should participate in the employee satisfaction survey?
Nursing homes are encouraged to maximize participation and aim for at least a 50-70 percent participation rate.

(2) Who should I contact if I have a question about or experience a problem with any of the materials, including, but not limited to, the survey or the Data Collection and Analytics Tool?
If you experience any problems, or if you have questions or suggestions for improving the materials, please email CMP-info@cms.hhs.gov. You can expect a response within three business days.

(3) What should I do if I do not have someone to fulfill a role on the survey team?
The exact number of staff involved in the survey team is up to your nursing home’s discretion. In some nursing homes, it may be appropriate to combine or divide roles and responsibilities in different ways.

(4) Do I need to share the employee satisfaction survey results with CMS and surveyors?
No, you do not need to share the employee satisfaction survey results with CMS and surveyors. Implementing this survey will not directly contribute to your star-rating. However, use of this survey can help your nursing home work toward making improvements in areas measured by the Five-Star Quality Rating System.

(6) How is the employee satisfaction survey relevant to the Requirements of Participation (RoP) and Facility Assessment?
The employee satisfaction survey is not part of the RoP, nor is it part of the Facility Assessment. CMS does not require the Nursing Home Employee Satisfaction Survey to be implemented. The employee satisfaction survey is voluntary; it is designed to help you assess your facility's strengths and opportunities for improvement.

(7) What is the Civil Money Penalty Reinvestment Program (CMPRP)?
CMPRP is a three-year effort to aid improvements in quality of care and quality of life for nursing home residents. The program aims to reduce adverse events, improve dementia care, and strengthen sufficiency, competency and performance of nursing home staffing to improve quality of life and quality of care.

(8) If I participate in this survey, will penalty monies be returned?
No, you will not receive any money you paid as a Civil Money Penalty by implementing the Nursing Home Employee Satisfaction Survey. However, implementing the survey will allow you to identify opportunities to improve nursing home performance, which may help you avoid future penalties.
