

Group Performance Information on Physician Compare Performance Year 2017 Preview Period

Overview

This document summarizes the group performance information and plain language measure titles<sup>1</sup> that will be available for preview in late 2018 and publicly reported on Physician Compare in early 2019. Physician Compare will publicly report group performance information from the 2017 Quality Payment Program. Information may be publicly reported on group profile pages or only in the Downloadable Database. Measures that meet statistical public reporting standards (valid, reliable, comparable, and meet the minimum reliability threshold) will be added to the Downloadable Database (§414.1395(b)). A subset of this information will be added to Physician Compare profile pages. Any information publicly reported on profile pages must also resonate with patient and caregivers, as shown through user testing. Per the Medicare and CHIP Reauthorization Act (MACRA), Physician Compare is required to publicly report eligible clinicians' final scores and performance category scores.

Under §414.1395(d), the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) provides a 30-day preview period for eligible clinicians and groups to preview their 2017 Quality Payment Program performance information before the data are publicly reported on Physician Compare.

The preview period begins on November 30, 2018 at 10 AM ET (or 7 AM PT) and ends on December 31, 2018 at 8 PM ET (or 5 PM PT). For more information on previewing your performance information, visit the Physician Compare Initiative page and download the Physician Compare Preview Period User Guide.

For questions about the Physician Compare preview period and public reporting, visit the Physician Compare Initiative page or contact us at PhysicianCompare@Westat.com.

Publicly Reported Performance Information

The 2017 Quality Payment Program performance data will be available for preview in late 2018 and publicly reported on Physician Compare in early 2019. This includes MIPS and QCDR quality measures, and CAHPS for MIPS summary survey measures; advancing care information attestations and measures; and performance category and final scores.

Merit-based Incentive Payment System (MIPS) Quality Measures

Physician Compare will publicly report 12 group MIPS quality measures as star ratings on profile pages as part of our phased approach to public reporting. 107 group MIPS quality measures will be publicly reported in the Downloadable Database when it is released.

Overall Merit-based Incentive Payment System (MIPS) Performance

Per section 1848(q)(9)(A) of the Social Security Act, Physician Compare is required to publicly report eligible clinicians' overall MIPS performance information. Physician Compare will publicly report 2017 final scores and performance category scores for quality, advancing care information, and improvement activities. Data for the cost performance category are not available for public reporting because they do not meet the Physician Compare established public reporting standards (§414.1395(b)). Groups can preview their Final Score and Performance Category Scores in their Quality Payment Program Performance Feedback. To access your group's Performance Feedback, log-in to the Quality Payment Program dashboard and select the "Performance Feedback" link.

Note: If you have an open Targeted Review request, you will still be able to preview your 2017 Quality Payment Program performance information during the Physician Compare preview period.

However, if your performance information (including Final Score), changes as a result of the Targeted Review, please check your updated Performance Feedback. This is important to ensure your Targeted Review is complete and to preview your updated performance information before it goes live on Physician Compare.

Please note that updated performance information will not be released on Physician Compare or in the Downloadable Database until all Targeted Reviews have been completed.

<sup>5</sup>Advancing care information (ACI) performance category scores above 0 will be used to indicate on the Physician Compare profile pages that the clinician or group successfully reported the ACI performance category. A score of 50 or above, which will be included in the Downloadable Database, indicates that the clinician or group achieved the base score for the ACI performance category. (83 FR 59913)
