

Long-term Service and Supports Fact Sheet for Tribal Leaders

How to Use the LTSS Technical Assistance Center

The Technical Assistance (TA) Center is a resource for tribal leaders to learn more about long-term services and supports (LTSS). The information provided in each section is described below.

Information

This section of the TA Center includes general information on LTSS, including overviews of LTSS models, eligibility requirements, and state/federal relationships. The section also contains information specific to tribal leaders, including LTSS talking points and a toolkit with printable resources to start the conversation about LTSS in your community.

Learn how to start a conversation about LTSS with others in your tribe.

Examples

This section of the TA Center contains examples of IHS, tribal, and urban LTSS programs by state. You'll find contact information, overviews of the services offered, and other helpful information. The section also includes program profiles of tribes using various LTSS models and videos showcasing their programs.

Find out what tribes across the nation are doing to bring LTSS to their communities.

Planning

This section of the TA Center includes information on planning how to address the LTSS needs of your tribal community. The initial planning section provides an overview on the various LTSS models and financing options, including federal, state, tribal, and grant opportunities. The advanced planning section includes the LTSS Roadmap with a step-by-step planning process for addressing LTSS in tribal communities, information on expanding your programs, and assistance with evaluation.

Start the planning process to address the LTSS needs of your tribe.

Webinars

This section of the TA Center contains information about upcoming monthly webinars and links to recordings of past webinars. The purpose of these webinars is to create meaningful dialogue about LTSS and to share promising practices in the field.

Explore new ways to think about LTSS with our informative webinars.

Newsletter

Join our email list to receive monthly email newsletters and announcements for LTSS webinars. Our email announcements bring LTSS news right to your inbox.

Sign up for the monthly LTSS email newsletter to stay informed about LTSS news and resources.

Tribal Leader Contact Information

