

Continuing Education Authors and Disclosures

Activity Title: Home Health Change of Care Notice (HHCCN) and Advance Beneficiary Notice of Noncoverage (ABN) (Contact Hours: 60 minutes)

Disclosure/Commercial Support

No one in a position to control the content of this activity has anything to disclose. All planners and developers of this activity have signed a disclosure statement indicating that they have no relevant financial interests. This activity was developed without commercial support.

Activity Planners/Developers/Instructors

Evelyn Blaemire, NP, presenter, has been involved with beneficiary protections policies at the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) since 2007. She is the National expert on Advance Beneficiary Notice (ABN) policy and developed the Home Health Change of Care Notice. She has presented information regarding ABN issuance that contains clinical examples for practical application to different provider types, contractors, and medical directors.

Ms. Blaemire is a nurse practitioner with extensive clinical experience and an experienced educator. She's held faculty appointments at the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing, where she developed and launched their Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Program, and at Fairleigh Dickinson University, as an instructor in the Post-Doctoral Psychopharmacology program for Clinical Psychologists. Ms. Blaemire earned a Master of Science Primary Care Nurse Practitioner degree at the University of Maryland at Baltimore.

Janet Miller, is a Health Insurance Specialist in the Division of Appeals Policy within the Center for Medicare (CM) at CMS. Her primary area of expertise is the fee-for-service expedited review process for service terminations. Prior to joining CMS in 2002, she worked as a Program Analyst for the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services conducting national program evaluations of the Medicare claims appeal process. Ms. Miller has a Master of Public Policy degree from the University of Minnesota's Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs.