NPI News: CMS released several documents on the Electronic File Interchange (EFI) process this week. EFI, also referred to as "bulk enumeration," is a process by which a health care provider or group of providers can have a particular organization (the "EFIO") apply for National Provider Identifiers (NPI) on their behalf. EFI documents posted to the web include a summary, user's guide and technical companion manual.

A new Fact Sheet for health care providers who are individuals is also now available.
