I. GENERAL INFORMATION

A. Background: Pursuant to §1861(ddd) of the Social Security Act, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) may add coverage of "additional preventive services" through the National Coverage Determination (NCD) process. The preventive services must meet all of the following criteria:

(1)Reasonable and necessary for the prevention or early detection of illness or disability.

(2) Recommended with a grade of A or B by the United States Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF).

(3) Appropriate for individuals entitled to benefits under Part A or enrolled under Part B.

CMS reviewed the USPSTF recommendations and supporting evidence for screening for hepatitis B Virus (HBV) infection and determined that the criteria listed above were met. Therefore, effective November 8, 2011, CMS covered screening for HBV infection only for pregnant women at the first prenatal visit when the diagnosis of pregnancy is known and then rescreening at time of delivery for those with new or continuing risk factors. Screening for HBV infection was not covered for any other populations.

B. Policy: The USPSTF updated its recommendations regarding HBV screening. Therefore, CMS has determined that the evidence is adequate to conclude that screening for HBV infection, consistent with the grade A and grade B recommendations by the USPSTF, is reasonable and necessary for the prevention or early detection of an illness or disability and is appropriate for individuals entitled to benefits under Part A or enrolled under Part B, as described below.

Effective September 28, 2016, CMS will cover screening for HBV infection with the appropriate U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approved/cleared laboratory tests, used consistent with FDA-approved labeling and in compliance with the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Act (CLIA) regulations, when ordered by the beneficiary's primary care physician or practitioner within the context of a primary care setting, and performed by an eligible Medicare provider for these services, for beneficiaries who meet either of the following conditions.

A screening test is covered for asymptomatic, non-pregnant adolescents and adults at high risk for HBV infection. "High risk" is defined as persons born in countries and regions with a high prevalence of HBV infection (i.e., $\geq 2\%$), US-born persons not vaccinated as infants whose parents were born in regions with a very high prevalence of HBV infection (i.e., $\geq 8\%$), HIV-positive persons, men who have sex with men, injection drug users, household contacts or sexual partners of persons with HBV infection. In addition, CMS has determined that repeated screening would be appropriate annually only for beneficiaries with continued high risk (men who have sex with men, injection drug users, household contacts or sexual partners of persons with HBV infection) who do not receive hepatitis B vaccination.

A screening test at the first prenatal visit is covered for pregnant women and then rescreening at time of delivery for those with new or continuing risk factors. In addition, CMS has determined that screening during the first prenatal visit would be appropriate for each pregnancy, regardless of previous hepatitis B vaccination or previous negative hepatitis B surface antigen (HBsAg) test results.

The determination of "high risk for HBV" is identified by the primary care physician or practitioner who assesses the patient's history, which is part of any complete medical history, typically part of an annual wellness visit and considered in the development of a comprehensive prevention plan. The medical record should be a reflection of the service provided.

Note: There are no changes to the policy in CR 7610 for the requirements related to HBV screening for pregnant women. Beginning the effective date of this policy, contractors will file their HBV claims according to the instructions here in NCD 210.6

Note for ESRD: There are no changes to the policy for ESRD, to ensure the appropriate ICD-10 code is used, please note effective on or after September 28, 2016 when submitted with G0499 – "HepB screen high risk indiv, for asymptomatic non-pregnant beneficiaries" and ICD-10 diagnosis code N18.6, End Stage Renal Disease, all of the preceding requirements shall be bypassed and the claim shall be allowed to pay, no matter what other ICD-10 diagnosis codes may appear on the claim.

Note on Timely Filing: Since the implementation of the policies described above and business requirements listed below was delayed by CMS until October 2, 2017, there may be requests to the MACs from suppliers seeking exceptions to the 1 calendar year time limit for filing claims for services furnished September 28 through October 1, 2016. MACs are reminded that the requirements for granting an exception to the 1 calendar year time limit for filing claims are in IOM Publication 100-04, Chapter 1, section 70.7. MACs have the authority to grant exceptions to the 1 calendar year time limit for filing claims are met.

230 – Screening for Hepatitis B Virus (HBV) (Rev. 3793, Issued: 06-09-17, Effective: 09- 28-16, Implementation: October 2, 2017- for design and coding; January 2, 2018 – Testing and Implementation)

Effective for services furnished on or after September 28, 2016, an initial screening for hepatitis B virus infection (HBV) is covered for asymptomatic, non-pregnant adolescents and adults at high risk for HBV infection. "High risk" is defined as persons born in countries and regions with high prevalence of HBV infection (i.e., $\geq 2\%$), US-born persons not vaccinated as infants whose parents were born in regions with a very high prevalence of HBV infection (i.e., $\geq 8\%$), HIV-positive persons, men who have sex with men, injection drug users, household contacts or sexual partners of persons with HBV infection.

In addition, CMS has determined that repeated screening would be appropriate annually only for beneficiaries with continued high risk (men who have sex with men, injection drug users, household contacts or sexual partners of persons with HBV infection) who do not receive hepatitis B vaccination.

A screening test at the first prenatal visit is covered for pregnant women and then rescreening at time of delivery for those with new or continuing risk factors. In addition, CMS has determined that screening during the first prenatal visit would be appropriate for each pregnancy, regardless of previous hepatitis B vaccination or previous negative hepatitis B surface antigen (HBsAg) test results. See section 170 of this chapter for coverage and billing instructions for pregnant beneficiaries.

Effective for claims with dates of service on or after September 28, 2016, the claims processing instructions for payment of screening for hepatitis B virus will apply to the following HCPCS and CPT codes:

- HBV screening for asymptomatic, non-pregnant adolescents and adults at high risk code G0499
- HBV screening for pregnant women CPT codes 86704, 86706, 87340 and 87341
- A. Frequency

HBV screening for asymptomatic, non-pregnant adolescents and adults at high risk (HCPCS code G0499)

- A single, one-time screening test is covered for asymptomatic, non pregnant adolescents and adults who do meet the high risk definition above.
- Repeat screening for high risk persons is covered annually only for persons who have continued high risk who do not receive hepatitis B vaccination.

Note: Annual means a full 11 months must elapse following the month in which the previous negative screening took place.

Note for ESRD: Effective for claims with dates of service on or after September 28, 2016 submitted with G0499 – "HepB screen high risk indiv, for asymptomatic non-pregnant beneficiaries" and ICD-10 diagnosis code N18.6, End Stage Renal Disease, all of the preceding requirements shall be bypassed and the claim shall be allowed to pay, no matter what other ICD-10 diagnosis codes may appear on the claim.

HBV screening for pregnant women (CPT codes 86704, 86706, 87340 and 87341)

• One occurrence per pregnancy of screening for HBV in pregnant women, and

• One additional occurrence per pregnancy of screening for HBV in pregnant women who are at continued risk

B. Determination of High Risk for Hepatitis B Disease

The determination of "high risk for HBV" is identified by the primary care physician or practitioner who assesses the patient's history, which is part of any complete medical history, typically part of an annual wellness visit, and considered in the development of a comprehensive prevention plan. The medical record should be a reflection of the service provided.

Note: See Pub. 100-03, Medicare National Coverage Determinations (NCD) Manual §210.6 for complete coverage guidelines.
