

Percentage of Affirmed/Partially Affirmed Pre-Claim Review Requests in Illinois (Week Twenty Four Affirm Rate in Illinois)

Updated: January 20, 2017

Pre-claim review requests may include one or more home health service. A partially affirmed decision indicates at least one service was provisionally affirmed. The partially affirmed rate has been decreasing while the fully affirmed rate has been increasing. In week 24, which ended on January 14, 2017, the majority (88.5 percent) of pre-claim review requests received a fully affirmed decision. Overall in week 24, 91.7 percent of pre-claim review requests received a provisionally affirmed or partially affirmed decision.

If HHAs choose not to take advantage of the pre-claim review process, when the final claim is submitted, it will be subjected to pre-payment review. Unlike during pre-claim review, claims that are found to be incorrect or missing required documentation during the pre-payment review process cannot be corrected. Such claims would be denied, and the HHA would need to appeal the claim to seek further review. As of November 3, 2016, claims submitted for payment without a pre-claim review decision are subject to a 25 percent payment reduction if found to be payable.
