

Ad hoc SEP Notice – Marketplace Enrollee with a retroactive SEP

When do we send this notice?

Current Marketplace enrollees get an ad hoc Special Enrollment Period (SEP) notice like this one when the Marketplace determines that at least one household member qualifies for a SEP. In this example, the consumer qualifies for a retroactive SEP due to an exceptional circumstance or a technical error by the Marketplace.

What does the notice tell the consumer?

The notice tells the consumer that at least one household member qualifies for a SEP, which allows the household member(s) to enroll in or change Marketplace plans. The notice includes:

- The SEP end date.
- Instructions for accessing the SEP through HealthCare.gov or a Marketplace-approved enrollment partner website.
- General information about Marketplace coverage effective dates.

In this example, because the consumer qualifies for a retroactive SEP, the notice also tells them to call the Marketplace Call Center if they want their coverage to start earlier.

Dear [Name 1]:

Someone on your application qualifies for a Special Enrollment Period. Your household can now enroll in or change Marketplace plans until March 8, 2024.

What should I do next?

If you enrolled through HealthCare.gov, follow these steps to use this Special Enrollment Period:

- Log into your Marketplace account at HealthCare.gov, then select your 2024 application.
- Select "Report a Life Change" to update your application and get new Eligibility Results. You'll automatically qualify for a Special Enrollment Period.
- Review and confirm your plan selection. If you change to a different plan, consider any costs that may reset, like your out-of-pocket expenses that go toward meeting a deductible.

If you enrolled through a Marketplace certified enrollment partner website, log into your account on that site and update your application to access this Special Enrollment Period. For help, contact your agent or broker.

When will new Marketplace coverage begin?

After you report a life change and confirm your plan selection, your updated coverage can start on the 1st day of the next month. If you want your coverage to start earlier, call the Marketplace Call Center.
