

Understanding the Health Insurance Marketplace® if You're Incarcerated

The Marketplace helps people shop for and enroll in health coverage.

If you're currently incarcerated

If you're currently incarcerated (detained or in jail) you aren't eligible to buy a Marketplace plan, even if you'll be released soon. You can enroll in a Marketplace plan once you're released. You may be able to enroll in Medicaid depending on your state. To see if you're eligible, visit HealthCare.gov/medicaid-chip/getting-medicaid-chip.

If you're in jail or prison pending disposition of charges

If you're in jail or prison waiting for the outcome of charges, you can buy a private health plan through the Marketplace if you're otherwise eligible for coverage.

If you were recently released

You have 60 days from your release from jail or prison to apply for Marketplace coverage and pick a plan through a Special Enrollment Period, even if it's outside the Marketplace Open Enrollment Period. If you plan to file taxes next year with your spouse or another household member who already has Marketplace coverage, they can update their application to add you to their plan.

If you don't pick a plan during your 60-day Special Enrollment Period, you won't be able to get Marketplace coverage until the next Marketplace Open Enrollment Period, unless you have a qualifying life event. For more information, visit HealthCare.gov/coverage-outside-open-enrollment/special-enrollment-period.

If you qualify, you can enroll if you're on probation, parole, under house arrest, or if you live in a halfway house and the government doesn't give you medical care.

How to apply for coverage

To apply for coverage, visit HealthCare.gov or call the Marketplace Call Center at 1-800-318-2596. TTY users can call 1-855-889-4325. To get free in-person help in your community, visit Localhelp.HealthCare.gov.

When you apply, you'll be asked if anyone on your application is incarcerated. If you (or someone else on your application) is in jail or prison, pending disposition of charges, but hasn't been convicted of charges, you'll need to tell us that they're pending disposition of charges.

You have the right to get your information in an accessible format, like large print, braille, or audio.

You also have the right to file a complaint if you feel you've been discriminated against.
