

README file for 2017 Proposed Rule Data Addenda B

The 2017 Proposed Rule Data Addenda B contains the data status indicators, data APC assignments, and data comment indicators that were used in the development of the mean costs for the HCPCS codes and APCs that are the basis of the scaled weights for the CY 2017 Proposed OPPS. The status indicators, APC assignments, and comment indicators contained in this file differ from those in the Addenda B that is published as part of the final rule in the following ways:

Elements are present for codes that were valid for CY 2015 but which are deleted for 2016.

HCPCS codes that are assigned status indicators Q1, Q2 or Q4 for publication have data status indicator N because their default for data purposes is as a packaged service; the status indicator is changed during modeling if the payment circumstances allow the HCPCS to meet the criteria for separate payment. HCPCS codes assigned status indicator Q3 appear with their separate payment status. HCPCS codes for partial hospitalization (PHP) appear with APC 5853 in Data Addenda B, even though those codes could potentially be paid through any of the PHP APCs 5853 or 5863 depending on the site of service.

There are five columns in the file:

Column heading	Explanation
HCPCS code	The Healthcare Procedural Coding System code that describes a service for which the code was valid at any time during 2015 or 2016. In a few cases, if the data comment indicator is “REM”, the code is a dummy code that was created to carry a cost for a CMS-defined service for which there either is no HCPCS code or for which there was no valid HCPCS code in 2015. See data comment indicator “REM” in the table of comment indicator definitions below for more explanation.
Short Descriptor	The HCPCS short descriptor for the code in column 1; if the code is a CPT code, the short descriptor is the AMA CPT short descriptor.
2017 Proposed Data Status Indicator	The status indicator that is assigned to the HCPCS code in column 1 for purposes of the use of the claims data in the calculation of CY 2017 OPPS payment rates.
2017 Proposed Data APC	The APC that is assigned to the HCPCS code in column 1 for purposes of the use of the claims data in the calculation of CY 2017 OPPS payment rates.
2017 Proposed Data Comment Indicator	The comment indicator that is assigned to the HCPCS code in column 1.

The comment indicators and their definitions appear below:

2017 Proposed Data Comment Indicator	Definition
CP8	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2008 NPRM as compared to their assignment since June 30, 2007.
CF8	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2008 final rule as compared to their assignment since December 31, 2007.
CP9	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2009 NPRM as compared to their assignment since June 30, 2008.
CF9	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2009 final rule as compared to their assignment since December 31, 2008.
CP10	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2010 NPRM as compared to their assignment since June 30, 2009.
CF10	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2010 final rule as compared to their assignment since December 31, 2009.
CP11	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2011 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2010.
CF11	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2011 final rule as compared to their assignments since December 31, 2010.
CP12	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2012 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2011.
CF12	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2012 final rule as compared to their assignments since December 31, 2011.
CP13	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2013 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2012.
CF13	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2013 final rule as compared to their assignments since December 31, 2012.
CP14	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2014 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2013
CF14	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2014 final rule as compared to their assignments since December 31, 2013.
CP15	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2015 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2014
CF15	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2015 final rule as compared to their assignments since December 31, 2014.
CP16	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2016 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2015
CF16	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2016 final rule as compared to their assignments since December 31, 2015.
CP17	There was a change in the SI or APC, or both, for the 2016 NPRM as compared to their assignments since June 30, 2016

REM	The “HCPCS” code in column 1 is a dummy code that was created as a vehicle by which to carry a cost that is calculated according to a set of criteria for purposes of the modeling that is necessary for budget neutrality, outlier estimation, and impact analysis purposes. For example, each composite APC has a dummy code. Similarly, services defined by codes that are new for 2014 for which there is no comparable code in the 2013 data may be assigned a dummy code for purposes of estimating the cost of the service from CY 2013 claims data using applicable criteria. Dummy codes are not included in publication Addenda B.
