I. BACKGROUND

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) is committed to maintaining the integrity and security of health care data in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. Disclosure of Medicare beneficiary eligibility data is restricted under the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Privacy Act) and HIPAA. The Medicare beneficiary eligibility transaction is to be used for conducting Medicare business only.

In its administration of the Medicare Fee-For-Service (FFS) program, CMS is a covered entity under the HIPAA rules. This Trading Partner Agreement serves to identify entities external to CMS that will exchange HIPAA compliant electronic transactions with CMS software applications. The HIPAA Eligibility Transaction System (HETS) supports the ASC X12 270/271. The information collected by the HETS system will enable CMS and the Trading Partner to establish connectivity, define the data exchange requirements, and stipulate the responsibilities of the entities receiving CMS-supplied beneficiary eligibility information.

II. AUTHORIZED USES

Medicare eligibility data are only to be used for Medicare business done on behalf of Medicare FFS providers, including preparing accurate Medicare claims or determining eligibility for specific services. Authorized and unauthorized uses are provided in the HETS Rules of Behavior referenced in Appendix A, available on the CMS website, and incorporated by reference herein.

Trading Partners cannot electronically store or reuse Medicare beneficiary protected health information (PHI) obtained from HETS, except for the following purposes expressly authorized by CMS:

- To maintain an historical account of processing activity
- In accordance with procedures (e.g., routine system backups) to support data restoration in the event of a disaster
- To update patient account records in the record management system of the FFS Medicare provider requesting the data

Any data storage by Trading Partner or its Business Associates, as defined by 45 CFR §160.103, must be compliant with the HETS Rules of Behavior.

III. SYSTEM INTEGRITY

CMS monitors beneficiary eligibility inquiries. Submitters demonstrating behavior that suggests improper use of the data (e.g., high inquiry error rate or, for provider submitters, high ratio of eligibility inquiries to claims submitted) may be suspended, placed on a corrective action plan (CAP) or, when appropriate, be referred for investigation. Civil and/or criminal enforcement may be pursued where appropriate.

1. HIPAA Violation

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) may impose civil money penalties on a covered entity of up to $50,000 for failure to comply with a provision in the Privacy, Security, and Breach Notification Rules, with maximum annual limits for violations of identical provisions, which are set forth at 42 U.S.C. 1320d-5(a). A person who knowingly obtains or discloses individually identifiable health information in violation of HIPAA faces criminal penalties ranging from $50,000, up to one-year imprisonment, or both, to, in circumstances where the wrongful conduct involves the intent to sell, transfer, or use individually identifiable health information for commercial advantage, personal gain, or malicious harm, up to $250,000, up to ten years imprisonment, or both Criminal enforcement is conducted by the Department of Justice.

2. Civil False Claims Act Violation and Criminal Violations

The False Claims Act, 31 U.S.C. §§ 3729-3733, provides that one who knowingly submits, or causes another person or entity to submit, false claims for payment of government funds is liable for three times the government's damages plus civil penalties of $11,181 to $22,363 per false claim (note that the civil penalty amounts are subject to an inflation adjustment; these were the amounts for calendar year 2018).

Various federal criminal provisions authorize imposition of criminal penalties, including fines and imprisonment, against individuals who, with respect to Government or health care benefit programs, engage in conduct including, but not limited to, falsifying or concealing a material fact or making materially false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement.

IV. CONNECTIVITY

Connectivity to CMS eligibility systems is supported by the use of the Extranet and/or the Internet. A Trading Partner may submit a request using the 270 standard to HETS using Transmission Control/Internet Protocol (TCP/IP) for extranet access or Simple Object Access Protocol (SOAP) + Web Services Description Language (WSDL) or Hypertext Transfer Protocol (HTTP)/Multipart Internet Mail Extensions (MIME) Multipart communication protocols for public Internet access. For additional information, including connectivity options, refer to the HETS Rules of Behavior. All Submitters shall submit the information required in Appendix B to request connectivity and be compliant with the guidance referenced in Appendix A.

V. ASSURANCES
